We, the committee appointed by Bishop J. C. Keener to try the charge of immorality against Rev. D. R. Bruton, having had the matter under careful and prayerful consideration, beg leave to present the following report:

1st. We find that specification first—to-wit: leaving his work—is sustained by the evidence in the case as to facts; but, owing to the state of health of the accused, and other mitigating circumstances, the specification does not sustain the charge of immorality.

2d. We find that specification second—viz.: misappropriation of funds—is not sustained by the evidence.

We, therefore, recommend the passage of the character of the said D. R. Bruton.

Pending the consideration of the report above mentioned, Bishop Keener stated that, at the present time, the Wesleyan Methodists of England are preparing to celebrate the death of Mr. Wesley by the reconstruction of his tomb, and that Rev. David J. Waller, D. D., in behalf of the committee appointed to carry out the purposes of the Conference, and Dr. Stephenson, both of London, had applied to him as the senior Bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, requesting that said Church be represented in this tomb by one of seven columns representing the several large divisions of Methodism in the world, the columns each to cost five hundred dollars.

Whereupon the following, in behalf of the two North Carolina Conferences, subscribed each the sum of one hundred dollars, making in all five hundred dollars, to be forwarded by Bishop Keener to Dr. Waller, of London, viz.:

Revs. W. S. Creasy and J. A. Cuninggim, and J. C. Davis, layman, North Carolina Conference; and Revs. J. F. Crowell and James Willson, of the Western North Carolina Conference.

The amounts thus subscribed were subsequently paid to Bishop Keener.

MEMORIAL SERVICES.

Question 19 was called, viz.: What preachers have died during the past year?

Answer—Joseph Wheeler, Edward Howland, Adolphus

W. Mangum, James E. Mann, Junius T. Harris and William H. Bobbitt.

Bishop Keener announced hymn No. 618, "Why do we mourn departing friends?"

The same, having been sung, memoirs were read as follows by members of the Committee on Memoirs:

Memoir of Joseph Wheeler, presented by C. W. Byrd.

MEMOIR OF REV. JOSEPH WHEELER.

The Rev. Joseph Wheeler, the subject of this memoir, was born in Camden, S. C., November 13th, 1833, and died at King's Mountain, N. C., December 25th, 1889.

His life was one signalized by his devotion to his Church and to his God, and wherever he labored he won the hearts of the people by his gentle manners and his kind and sympathetic nature. Though he is gone, the sweet influences of his character will linger with us, and the currents of good that started will flow on to meet him in eternity. He was one of the wisest and tenderest of pastors. He carried with him the Spirit of the Master, and you could not spend an hour with him without feeling the uplifting influences of his chaste conversation and Christ-like spirit. He was not considered a great preacher by the masses, but the chasteness of his style charmed the cultured, the clearness of his reasoning enchained the attention of the thoughtful, and the deep spirituality of his doctrines edified Christians and convinced sinners. The preaching of such a man is not to be estimated by the voice of the masses, but by the intelligent faith and robust Christian character of his congregation. Measured by this standard, which is the true one, he was among the best preachers of the Conference.

As a man he was the highest type of a Christian gentleman. He owed this distinction to no adventitious circumstances of fortune, nor to any single sparkling quality; but looking to the whole of what forms a man, to what entitles him to rank high among his fellows, in a word, looking to the mind and soul, we pronounce him a Christian gentleman of the highest type.

He had a mind superior to fear, selfish interest and corruption, which no outward circumstances could conquer, no vacillating multitude turn from its purposes of right, which no promise of ease or gain could cause for a moment to prove false to its deepest convictions of duty, and which no pleasure could melt into effeminacy, nor distraction sink into dejection. This is the mind which forms the distinction and eminence of men. We can conceive of no circumstances under which he would have been either afraid or ashamed to act his part with firmness and constancy. He was true to the God whom he worshiped, true to the faith in which he professed to believe. He was full of affection to his brethren, faithful to his friends, and warm, with compassion, to the unfortunate. He was self-denying in little private interests and pleasures, but zealous for the public interest and happiness. He was magnanimous without being proud, humble without being mean, and just without being harsh. He was simple in his manners, but manly in his feelings. On his word you could entirely depend. His countenance never deceived you, and his professions of kindness were effusions of his heart. He was a man whom, independent of any views of advantage, you would choose for a superior, could trust as a friend, and love as a brother. His home-life was beautiful in its expressions of tender affection for his wife and children. The family altar was never neglected. He never permitted the public services of the church to substitute his family or private devotions. His prayers at the family altars were not set nor formal, but simple and direct, being a sense of divine presence to each member of the household, and laying before God the plans, perplexities and hopes as a family and as individuals.

Such was the character of Joseph Wheeler. We honored him, we loved him, and we mourn his loss.

To his father he owed much, for it was his hand that moulded, to a large extent, the splendid Christian character that we have just sketched. He was brought up in the Church of which he became so successful a minister, and was consecrated in the church at New Berne, N. C., of which his father was at that time pastor.

In 1855 he was licensed and recommended by the Quarterly Conference of Washington Station for admission on trial into the traveling connection, and was admitted in November of that year in Wilmington, N. C.

He was appointed that year as junior preacher on Haw River Circuit, with P. W. Archer as senior. The remaining thirty-three years of his faithful and efficient ministry was spent in the following charges, and in the following order: New Berne, Straits and Rowan Circuits; Fifth Street (Wilmington) and Plymouth Stations; Snow Hill, Smithfield, Rockingham, Tarboro, Iredell and Mount Gilead Circuits; Salisbury, Concord and Fayetteville Stations.

He served Fifth Street Station and Rockingham Circuit two terms each. During his second year at Fayetteville his health failed rapidly, and at the Conference which held its session in Greensboro at the close of that year he asked for a superannuated relation. He lived only a few days after the adjournment of the Conference that superannuated him. His death took place in the midst of his family at King's Mountain, and was characterized by unwavering faith and holy confidence.

Memoir of Edward Howland, presented by F. L. Reid:

MEMOIR OF REV. EDWARD HOWLAND.

Rev. Edward Howland was born in New Berne, N. C., November 9th, 1846, and died in the city of Raleigh, N. C., March 13th, 1890, a little after 4 o'clock P. M. He was converted, and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in New Berne, N. C., in 1867, under the ministry of Rev. R. A. Willis. He joined the North Carolina Conference at New Berne, in 1869, and was appointed thereafter to the following charges:

In 1870, to Jones Circuit.

In 1871, to Franklinsville Circuit.

In 1872, to East Rowan Circuit.

In 1873, to Trent Circuit.

In 1874, to Columbus Mission.

In 1875-'76, to Stanly Circuit.

In 1877, to Wilkes Circuit.

In December, 1877, owing to feeble health, he was placed in the supernumerary relation, and remained in that relation until December, 1879, when he was placed in the superannuated relation, and remained in this relation until his death.

He was married to Miss Adelaide K. Futrell, of Randolph County, November 24, 1871, who, together with two daughters, survives him.

Bro. Howland was good and pure from his youth. Several years previous to his entering the ministry he had been quite successful in mercantile business. He early developed good business talent, which, together with his uniformly steady habits, always secured him employment at home. His deportment was so correct that for years before he made any profession of faith he was regarded by many as a Christian. This impression was, perhaps, strengthened by the fact that he was always a liberal supporter of the Church before he became a member. He was a man of strong faith. The pre-eminent characteristic of his Christian life was his strong and unshaken faith, producing its legitimate fruit—entire consecration. In the ministry he was faithful, and labored with a frail body as much and as long as he could. It was a great grief to him that he could not labor longer. In the social and domestic circle, while always kind and affectionate, there was an increasing tenderness as the years went by.

About three weeks before his death he went from his home in Cary, N. C., to visit his sister in Raleigh, and was unexpectedly taken quite sick of a complication of diseases, and gradually grew worse until he passed away. He was buried in the city cemetery in Raleigh, N. C. In his last hours he gave unmistakable assurances that he was ready to depart in peace. He died triumphantly, and sweetly rests from his labors and sufferings.

Memoir of Adolphus W. Mangum, presented by J. B. Martin:

MEMOIR OF ADOLPHUS W. MANGUM.

Rev. Adolphus Williamson Mangum, D. D., Professor of Mental and Moral Science in the University of North Carolina, died at his home in Chapel Hill, N. C., May 12th, 1890, at noon. He was one month and eleven days past his fifty-sixth birthday. He was born on Flat River in Orange County, of one of the best families of that day and section, and was a blood relation of the Hon. W. P. Mangum, of State and national fame.

The early life of young Mangum was spent in the rural environments of a Southern country home, and amid the best of Christian influence and refinement. His native qualities soon began to show that he had superior gifts of both head and heart. These divine endowments were not neglected, but received careful cultivation at home, and skillful training in school. He was converted to God, through the Spirit of His Son, at Mt. Bethel Church, now in Durham County, when very young, and joined the Methodist Church, to whose doctrines and usages he gave a steady adherence to the end of his useful life. His preparatory education was received at the well-known school of Rev. J. A. Dean, at South Lowell Academy, in his native county. At the age of 21 he graduated with high distinction from Randolph-Macon College, Virginia. The genial manner, sterling character, the brilliancy of young Mangum's success in college, together with the thoroughness of his scholarship, won for him both the admiration of his classmates and the confidence and esteem of the whole faculty of the college. His unusual Christian character and honor was his chief ornament. His success in school and college were, to all, the unmistakable foreshadowings of a more triumphant career of honor and usefulness in following years. Soon after graduation he was licensed to preach the gospel of Jesus Christ. He entered the ministry, not as a profession, but because God had sent him. His whole heart and life were committed to this blessed work.

He joined the North Carolina Conference at Greensboro, November 12th, 1856, 'in the class with J. F. Smoot, R. G. Barrett, A. D. Betts, J. B. Bailey, W. C. Gannon, and other honored men of God. He was ordained deacon by Bishop Kavanaugh at New Berne, and elder by Bishop Paine at Salisbury. His first appointment was as junior preacher on Hillsboro circuit with that flaming evangelist, Henry Gray. In 1858-'59 he was stationed at Chapel Hill, thus beginning his labors as preacher in charge on the very spot where, thirty-two years later, he would close his labors and go to Heaven; 1860, Roanoke Circuit; 1861-'62, Salisbury Station. In the latter part of 1861 he was chaplain, in the Confederate army, of the 6th N. C. Regiment; perhaps no part of his ministry yielded a larger harvest than his labors among the soldiers. In 1863-'64 stationed in Goldsboro; 1865-'66 again stationed in Salisbury; 1867 he was appointed agent for Greensboro Female College; 1868-'69, on Orange Circuit; 1870, Greensboro Station; 1871, Charlotte Station; 1872-'73-'74-'75, stationed at Edenton street, Raleigh; in 1875 he was elected Professor of Mental and Moral Science in the University of North Carolina, which chair he filled with great ability and success until his death. The honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity was given him by his Alma Mater, Randolph-Macon College. He was also elected to membership in "The Victoria Philosophical Society of Great Britain."

Dr. Mangum was a most untiring worker, often taxing beyond its strength his not over robust body. Almost prostrated with overwork in his professorship, he attended the session of the Annual Conference at New Berne in 1888. While in New Berne he had a severe stroke of paralysis, but, after five or six months of rest and recuperation, he resumed his duties again in the University, and continued with great energy till a few weeks before his death. A man of less will and love, after such a shock, would have given up work, and retired to the quiet of home to die, but Dr. Mangum's tireless soul was so full of devotion that every breath of life and remaining power must be given to God and his fellows. As a minister of Jesus Christ he was filled with a mighty and holy purpose to do good. The Holy Spirit had written upon his manly soul the loftiest ideal of duty and responsibility, and he must meet it to the end. It was an attractive spectacle to behold his tottering form making his way to the recitation room. When he ceased to work he died and went to Heaven. The learned and instructive professor and eloquent preacher is silent in death. It is a matter of regret to all who know the facts that he could not complete the book he was writing, which, if he could have finished, would have taken a first place in our church literature.

Perhaps the crowning glory of Dr. Mangum's career was his Christian life. He loved God. He was a man of prayer. He had an experience. He searched the scriptures. He honored to the end a pledge he made in early life to his mother, that he would read one chapter of God's word each week day and three on Sabbaths. This promise he never broke. Even when too feeble and eyesight too dim to read himself in his last sickness, he requested others to read to him. His last day on earth was a Sabbath, and a day of suffering and pain, but his mother's covenant must not be broken; his chapters must be read. The reading went on, verse by verse, at broken intervals, till the task was complete.

For weeks before he died he talked a great deal about death, and about how much he loved his brethren in the Conference—would like to meet with them once more. Then he would begin to name over those he would meet in Heaven. One of the last things he said was, "My trust is in the living God."

The home of Dr. Mangum was refined, cultured, sweet and Christian. In his young manhood he married Miss Laura O. Overman, of Salisbury, who was to him the light and joy of his heart and home. The mother of his children, the self-sacrificing friend in his itinerant ministry; the sharer of his joys and sorrows for twenty-six years, she was no less his devoted and patient companion in his last hours, and her sweet ministry was given tenderly beside his dying pillow till God closed his eyes in sleep. "Well done."

"Forever with the Lord,
Amen. So let it be!
Life from death is in that word.
'Tis immortality."

Memoir of James E. Mann, presented by W. S. Black:

MEMOIR OF REV. J. E. MANN, D. D.

Rev. James Emory Mann, D. D., was born in Chatham County, N. C., December 26th, 1832. He embraced religion and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, when sixteen years of age. He received a fair classical education at a neighboring academy. At twenty years of age, feeling that he was called to the office and work of the ministry, he was licensed to preach, and at the age of twenty-one he joined the North Carolina Annual Conference at its session in the city of Raleigh in 1853. Always in the effective ranks, never absent from a session of his Conference, he received his appointments from year to year as a faithful, loyal, itinerant preacher, serving eight years on circuits, twenty-one years on stations and eight years on districts.

“Through heat and cold and storm his way has lain;
He never heeded pleasure’s syren strain
Telling of easier paths, nor turned aside
To pluck the flowers in meadows green and wide.”

He was ordained deacon by Bishop J. O. Andrew, at Wilmington, November 18th, 1855, and ordained elder by Bishop G. F. Pierce, at Goldsboro, December 6th, 1857.

The following were his appointments: 1854, junior preacher Halifax Circuit; 1855, Staunton, Va., in Danville District; 1856-’57, Winston; 1858, Wilmington, Fifth Street Station; 1859, Plymouth; 1860-’61, Winston; 1862, Washington Station. From Washington he was soon run out by the Federal army. He went to Winston, organized a company of soldiers, of which he was elected captain, and joined the Confederate army. He soon resigned, and was made a chaplain in the army. He remained in this position, administering to the soldiers, until his health failed, and he returned home. He was sent, in 1863, to Forsyth Circuit; 1864-’65, Madison Circuit; 1866-’67-’68, Mocksville Circuit; 1869-’70-’71-’72, Fayetteville Station; 1873-’74, Goldsboro Station; 1875-’76-’77, Wilmington, Front Street Station; 1878-’79-’80, P. E. Washington District; 1881, P. E. Warrenton District; 1882-’83-’84-’85, P. E. New Berne District; 1886-’87-’88-’89, West Market Street Station, Greensboro.

Dr. Mann provided handsomely for the entertainment of the last session of the North Carolina Conference, which was held in Greensboro, closing up his fourth year as the beloved pastor of West Market Street Church, and was stationed by Bishop Hargrove at New Berne, N. C.

Dr. Mann was a Trustee of Trinity College, and intensely interested in that institution. The honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity was most worthily bestowed upon him by Trinity College, N. C., in June, 1889. Dr. Mann was a strong preacher. Realizing that “the gospel of Christ is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth,” he preached that gospel, expecting large results, and God honored his ministry in the conversion of many souls. He could not be satisfied with a barren ministry. A hard student, he prepared, with “well-beaten oil,” for the intellectual and religious development of those who waited on his ministry. Said one of the leading educators of our State to me a short while before his death: “Dr. Mann studies hard and studies systematically, on a line calculated to enrich his sermons and enlarge his capabilities. I know of no young man more diligent in this respect." Faithful in every department of church work, our beloved brother labored to place on a higher plane the standard of Christian education, and the Sunday-school and missionary enterprises prospered under his fostering care. He loved the children, and drew them to him by the strength of his affection.

As a pastor he was greatly beloved, and the poor and afflicted of his charge soon learned to know him as a trusted and sympathizing friend. Quiet and retiring in his disposition, "those who knew him best loved him most." His friendship, though not demonstrative, was sincere and abiding. His was the very soul of honor. He was, indeed, "one of nature's noblemen." To his tried friends he was confiding and trustful to a degree that spurned dissimulation and hated hypocrisy. His gentility was proverbial, and no one who ever knew him failed to recognize the fact that he was, in the highest sense, a Christian gentleman. He studied to be kind, and was never happier than when contributing to the happiness of his fellows. In his own family circle his great, loving nature shone brightest and sweetest.

Selecting as a companion in his itinerant life Miss Mary Miller, of Winston, N. C., who has most beautifully discharged the duties of her responsible position, he shielded her, in all possible ways, from its hardships and trials. To their children, three sons and three daughters, he was ever kind, gentle and loving, and they made him their confidant and adviser in all their plans. As the oldest son bowed over the casket containing the loved remains, the day after his death, having gone with all possible haste, in answer to a telegram, only to find that the father he so much loved and served had already "passed over the river," he, weeping, said, "He never spoke an unkind word to me." With these sweet memories remain to them the invaluable heritage of his beautiful Christian life.

The circumstances attending the death of our beloved brother were unusually sad. Bidding adieu to his loved ones, near the shores of the Atlantic, he went to St. Louis, for the second time a representative of his Conference in the General Conference. As we journeyed thither he referred to the last session of the General Conference held there, and to the fact that two of its members had died there during its session. "But," said he, trustfully, "Heaven is as near St. Louis as North Carolina." How little did we think that the history of the past would be so soon repeated. A few days after reaching St. Louis he was taken ill. Typhoid fever developed, and, though anxious about his condition, we were shocked and grieved at the fatal result. But, though unexpected the summons, Dr. Mann was ready. When his brethren would engage in prayer around his bedside he would respond earnestly and fervently. He had no dread, no fear, no opposition to God's will, and in the last interview which we enjoyed he said, "I have committed my wife and children and self, all in the hands of my heavenly Father." What golden words of love and trust! Our brother had every attention during his illness, and every possible tribute of respect was paid his memory. Brothers Cupples and Scruggs, of St. Louis, are held in grateful recollection by the North Carolina delegation.

This is no idle eulogy. As we gather here in our annual meeting and miss his well-known form, his kindly voice, we feel bereft. And, amid the tear-clouds which surround us, we lay tenderly, lovingly, hopefully this wreath of immortelles upon our brother's bier. May the God in whom our brother trusted, who made his life so beautiful, and who to-day makes the memory of him so precious unto us, comfort and sustain the crushed wife and children, and us, his comrades and friends.

Dear brother, rest in peace, and may a happy reunion await us in our Father's home.

Memoir of Junius T. Harris, presented by E. A. Yates.

MEMOIR OF REV. JUNIUS T. HARRIS.

Rev. Junius T. Harris, Presiding Elder of the Durham District, died in Durham, November 19th, 1890, at 11 o'clock A. M., at the residence of his brother-in-law, Mr. Julian S. Carr. The immediate cause of his death was pneumonia and cardiac neuralgia, brought on by exposure to cold in the discharge of his duties as a minister of Christ.

He joined the Conference at Greensboro in 1870, and devoting himself to the itinerant ministry, he met its obligations with a heroic faith and a manly heart.

The subject of this sketch was born in Davidson County, N. C., and was a little over 46 years of age at the time of his death. His parents died when he was quite a boy and left him a helpless orphan. Being forced to support himself, he became a shoemaker by trade early in life. When sixteen years of age he entered the Confederate army and surrendered with Johnston's army near Durham in 1865. Coming out of the army, he determined upon seeking a collegiate education in order to prepare himself for the ministry, to which he felt God had called him. He had no means and no one to help him. He took his shoemaker's bench and tools and went to Trinity College. He mended boots and shoes on Saturdays to help pay his bills. Thus for five years he struggled on until he had graduated in both the literary and theological departments of the college, paying what he could as he went and the balance after he left college.

He graduated in June, 1870. About ten days after his graduation he was appointed P. C. of Cary Circuit and went right to work as an itinerant preacher. He has served Cary Circuit, Magnolia Circuit, Hillsboro Station, Lincolnton Circuit, Mooresville Circuit, Statesville Station, St. Paul's Station in Goldsboro; was three years Presiding Elder of New Berne District, had been nearly two years Presiding Elder on Durham District, and about three months Superintendent of the Oxford Orphan Asylum. This brief record of his successful life is a fine example for the orphan boys who will mourn his death, and for all boys and young men all over our land.

Bro. Harris' business capacity was as marked as his preaching ability. His planning was wise and his execution successful. He was a master of finance. He knew men; and he had the faculty for interesting strong men in his enterprises. He commanded the respect, and frequently the support, of men who knew the law and method of successful business.

As a preacher he ranked very high, though he was not brilliant. Clear in exegesis, logical in form, and evangelical in matter, he often became a master of assemblies, and was listened to by all classes with more than ordinary attention and profit. He was faithful, both in the sense of stability of belief and conscientious discharge of duty, and in every relation of life he strove to maintain a conscience void of offence toward God and man.

He married Miss Lizzie Carr, who, by this dispensation of an All-wise Providence, is left a widow with five children to mourn the loss of a loving husband and a saintly father. They inherit a good name; may God help them to increase the interest of the endowment. And may He be indeed to them a husband to the widow and a father to the orphan.

Bro. Harris' end was peace. He triumphed in his last hour. His sun of life went not down as sets the natural sun, but, like the morning star, it melted into Heaven's glory-sunlight. He conquered his way to the gate of death, which he had thought was made of iron, but found it made of pearl. And by the goodness of God, by the power of the Holy Ghost, and by the love of Christ, the gate of death to him was made the gate of Heaven. He seemed to enter with the shout of a conqueror. He had already recited to friends around his bed the grounds of his faith and the brightness of his hope, and now, at his last moment, with his pallid lips close to my ear, he whispered, "I lie down and die in hope of the resurrection of the just;" and then, although to me in a whisper, yet a shout that rang out to the angels and God, "Unto him that loved me, and washed me from my sins in His own blood, be honor and glory forever." And then, in less time than I take to tell it, his happy spirit went up to join the general assembly and church of the first-born, whose names are written in Heaven.

"Life's duty done as sinks the clay,
Light from its load the spirit flies,
While heaven and earth combine to say,
How blest the righteous when he dies."

To have associated with Bro. Harris was a privilege which any good man might have coveted. He was so devoted to his high calling that his spiritual presence was helpful to the Christian. He was cheerful without levity, serious without being gloomy, and everywhere a Christian gentleman. Surely it was a benediction to be present when the chariot of God stood still a moment to claim Junius T. Harris as a passenger for the skies. God knows I wanted to go with him, if my work had been finished. For he died, not as the sinner dies, like the galley-slave scourged to his dungeon, but like one who, dying in the Lord Jesus, wraps the drapery of his couch about him and lies down to pleasant dreams—the death of the righteous! The death of the righteous! Oh, blessed Lord, it is precious in Thy sight! Help us to live so that it shall be ours.

Memoir of William H. Bobbitt, presented by J. A. Cuninggim.

MEMOIR OF REV. W. H. BOBBITT, D. D.

After a long life of great usefulness and devoted piety the Rev. William Hilliard Bobbitt, D. D., of the North Carolina Conference, died in Fayetteville, N. C., November 22d, 1890, at the residence of his son-in-law, Rev. C. W. Byrd.

Dr. Bobbitt was the oldest son of Sherwood Haywood and Ann Eliza Bobbitt, and was born in Halifax County, N. C., March 11th, 1826, and was in his 65th year. He was early converted and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and entered the ministry at an early age, and joined the North Carolina Conference in 1846 at New Berne. He was forty-four years in the active ministerial service of his Church, and was a leading member of the North Carolina Conference. During his life he filled many of the most important appointments of the Conference, as follows:

- 1847, Wilkes Circuit.
- 1848, Jonesville.
- 1849, New Berne, junior preacher.
- 1850, New Berne, Andrew Chapel.
- 1851, Plymouth.
- 1852-'53, Wilmington, junior preacher.
- 1854, took no appointment on account of ill-health.
- 1855-'56, Greensboro Station.
- 1857-'58, Fayetteville Station.
- 1859, Agent of the American Bible Society.
- 1860-'61-'62, Salisbury District.
- 1863-'64-'65-'66, Fayetteville District.
- 1867-'68-'69, Hillsboro District.
- 1870, Raleigh District.
- 1871-'72, Greensboro District.
- 1873-'74, Raleigh District.
- 1875, Greensboro Station.
- 1876-'77-'78-'79, Charlotte District.
- 1880-'81-'82-'83, Greensboro District.
- 1884, Wilmington District.
- 1885-'86-'87-'88, Salisbury District.
- 1889, Fayetteville District.

At the Conference in 1889, at Greensboro, he was, on his own application, granted a superannuated relation.

He was on Districts as P. E. from 1860 to 1890, except the year 1875, and was unusually successful in that department of church work. When his name was called at Concord and Rev. S. D. Adams, his life-long friend, said, "Dr. Bobbitt is dead," Bishop Keener responded, "A good and great man has gone. He was one of the best presiding elders I have ever known." And that was the estimate of the North Carolina Conference.

In the year 1852, while stationed in Wilmington, he was happily married to Miss Harriet L. Kelly, of that city. She was a beautiful, Christian character, a model preacher's wife, and she contributed her full share to the successful life of her husband. Ten children were born to them, all of whom died quite young, except Mrs. Alice Ashcraft and Fletcher Bobbitt, Esq., of Winston, N. C., and Mrs. Hattie Byrd, of Asheville, N. C. Their mother closed her bright, cheerful, heroic life by a triumphant death, September, 1886, four years and two months before the death of their father. How sadly he missed her from his home. Her memory was so sacred to him. He seemed never to tire of telling what she had been to him and his children, and of his anticipations in joining her in glory above. He was sick for several months in the home of his youngest daughter, Mrs. C. W. Byrd. His sufferings were great and prolonged, but, through grace, he was patient and joyously submissive to the Divine will. Grace completed its work, and "he is forever with the Lord."

The above is the record of a noble life. His character was rounded and beautiful. In all the relations of life he was loved and honored as but few men are. He was pure in heart, pure in life, and pure in conversation. His presence in any home was considered a benediction.

He was several times elected to the General Conference, until he declined an election. This unselfish act was characteristic of the man. In honor he preferred others. The preachers trusted him implicitly and loved him ardently. The people everywhere hailed his coming with joy. The universal verdict in reference to him may be summed up in the words: "He was a good man—one of nature's noblemen."

On motion of J. A. Cuninggim, the memoirs were adopted.

F. D. Swindell introduced the following resolution, which was read and unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the thanks of this Conference be tendered to Brothers Samuel Cupples and R. M. Scruggs, of St. Louis, Mo., for their kindness and generous aid so delicately rendered our late Brother James E. Mann, a member of this body and of the General Conference, during his sickness at St. Louis, and to our delegation after his death,

(Signed)

F. D. SWINDELL,
W. S. BLACK,
V. A. SHARPE,
D. W. BAIN.

V. A. Sharpe introduced the following resolution, which was read and unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the thanks of this Conference are due and are hereby tendered the pastors and officers of churches in Wilson, who have offered their houses of worship for the use of the Conference during its sessions.

(Signed)

V. A. SHARPE.
W. H. MOORE.

The Conference having concluded its business, the journal of this morning's session was read and approved.

Bishop Keener called question 35, viz.: Where are the preachers stationed this year?

Bishop Keener announced the appointments, and the Conference, at 1 o'clock and 15 minutes P. M., adjourned sine die.

Benediction by Bishop Keener.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON BIBLE CAUSE.

Your Committee on the Bible Cause beg leave to submit the following:

That the Bible is now, ever has been, and ever will be, the book of books there can be no doubt to any unbiased, unprejudiced mind. None other is comparable to it in the beauty and simplicity of its style, the purity and sublimity of its matter, and its wonderful adaptation to the unutterable wants of our common humanity. Herein are found food for the hungry, drink for the thirsty, rest for the weary, and pardon for the guilty. It is a matter of profound regret to us, and it gives us peculiar pain to chronicle the fact, that the Bible is greatly neglected in very many of our homes and schools, notwithstanding it has contributed so much to the enlightenment, civilization and Christianization of the nations of the globe. In consideration of the wide and increasing circulation of the unhallowed literature of the day, how little (sad thought!) is the one book studied and read. The neglect of the Bible is a fruitful source of declension in piety, and augments those agencies which are so well calculated to undermine and destroy the principles of our holy Christianity. We ask the adoption of the following resolutions:

Resolved, 1st, That we earnestly urge the people of our respective pastoral charges to be more diligent and constant in the use and study of the Word of God, which abideth forever, and which is able to make them wise unto salvation.

Resolved, 2d, That we commend to the favorable consideration of our congregations the American Bible Society, in its work of supplying the people, both at home and abroad, with the word of eternal life; that we pledge our best efforts to increase its efficiency, and that the Superintendents of our Sunday-schools co-operate with said Society in placing a copy of the Holy Scriptures in the hands of all the children.

Resolved, 3d, That all our preachers be, and they are hereby, requested to take up collections for this object in their charges.

(Signed)

G. W. FISHER, Chairman.

CHARLES W. CAIN, Secretary.

REPORT OF BOARD OF COLPORTAGE.

The Board of Colportage has carefully considered the work of our Agent of Colportage and Sunday-schools, and is highly gratified at the success achieved during the past Conference year. The report of the Agent shows that he has been abundant in labors, traveling, speaking, preaching and distributing the literature of the Church throughout the length and breadth of our Conference. The valuable work done, and gratifying success achieved, is due more to the activity of the Agent himself than to any plan which might be adopted by the Conference. The entire Conference is to be congratulated, as well as the faithful and energetic Agent, for the great success which has attended this department of our Church work. We suggest the adoption of the following resolutions:

Resolved, 1st, That as the Publishing House prefers that all our business should come through the Agent, we will, as far as possible, make all our orders for books and Sunday-school supplies through him, and that the Secretary of our Sunday-school Board be requested to make his orders for Sunday-school supplies through the same agency.

Resolved, 2d, That we request our presiding Bishop to reappoint the Rev. T. J. Gattis as Agent of Colportage and Sunday-schools, and we hereby pledge him our continued and hearty support in this important and responsible work.

Resolved, 3d, That we gladly unite with the Western North Carolina Conference in the adoption of this one Agency for the two Conferences.

Respectfully submitted,

F. L. REID, Chairman.

J. B. HURLY, Secretary.

REPORT OF BOARD OF EDUCATION.

The Board of Education, to which have been referred the reports of the several institutions of learning under the fostering care of the Conference, beg leave to submit the following report:

DAVENPORT FEMALE COLLEGE.

This institution is the joint property of the North Carolina and Western North Carolina Conferences, but is located within the bounds of the Western Conference, and the Trustees having been authorized by that Conference to ask a transfer thereto of the title to the College property, we recommend that the transfer be made.

LITTLETON FEMALE COLLEGE.

This institution is splendidly located on the Seaboard Air-Line Railroad; has recently made a large addition to the building at a cost of several thousand dollars; has a Faculty of nine officers and teachers, and is doing very successful work. The estimated value of the property is $10,000.

We heartily endorse this institution, and recommend it to the patronage of our people.

We also present the following preamble and resolutions:

EMORY UNIVERSITY
THEOLOGY LIBRARY

WHEREAS, The Conference already owns a part of the stock in Littleton Female College by virtue of the charter; and whereas, the present management offers to add sixty shares of stock, valued at $3,000, to that already in our hands;

Resolved, 1st, That we appreciate this liberal offer, and heartily recommend that the same be accepted, and that the Trustees appointed to hold the stock belonging to the Conference, be instructed to take charge of and represent this also.

Resolved, 2d, That the vacancy in the Board of Trustees, caused by the death of Rev. J. W. Heptinstall, be filled by W. L. Cuninggim.

Resolved, 3d, That, in pursuance of request by the President, a visiting committee be appointed for the College for the ensuing year.

Resolved, 4th, That the Conference request the Bishop to appoint Rev. J. M. Rhodes President.

WESLEYAN FEMALE COLLEGE, MURFREESBOROUGH.

By the recent transfer of territory from the Virginia Conference to the North Carolina Conference, this institution is placed within our bounds. We find it to be valuable property and admirably arranged for the noble work for which it was built. It is finely officered with a good corps of teachers, and we heartily and earnestly recommend it to the patronage of our people.

* We understand it is the desire of the Trustees, in the near future, to donate the stock of the College to this Conference.

The estimated value of the buildings and grounds is $30,000. Prof. E. E. Parham, for many years an educator, is the President.

GREENSBORO FEMALE COLLEGE.

It pains us to note the death, since the last session of this Conference, of that grand female educator, Dr. T. M. Jones, who, at the time of his death, had for many years been the worthy President of this grand old institution of learning. While we bow to the will of Providence under this heavy affliction, we congratulate ourselves, the Conference, North Carolina Methodism, and the public generally, that God has raised up a man so worthy and so well qualified in every respect to fill this vacancy as Dr. Jones' successor, Dr. B. F. Dixon.

This institution speaks loudly for itself through the multitude of girls it has educated and sent out. We are glad to know that it is still doing a noble work, with a fully competent corps of teachers. We heartily endorse and recommend Greensboro Female College to everybody.

TRINITY COLLEGE.

The Board of Trustees of Trinity College recommend this Conference to adopt the following report of the Board of Trustees of Trinity College, asking the North Carolina Conference to ratify the action of said Board in removal of said College to Durham, N. C., etc., as herein presented, to-wit:

WHEREAS, The North Carolina Conference, at its session at Greensboro, N. C., in the month of November, A. D., 1889, authorized and directed the Board of Trustees of Trinity College to move said College to the city of Raleigh upon certain conditions; and whereas, the said Board of Trustees, at a called meeting on the 25th day of March, A. D. 1890, in the city of Durham, N. C., passed the following resolution, to-wit:

“Whereas, The Board of Trustees of Trinity and the North Carolina Conference are in law and equity bound to maintain the obligation into which they have publicly entered with the citizens of Raleigh for the removal of Trinity College to said city; and whereas, Messrs. Duke and Carr, and other citizens of Durham, have this day made a most liberal offer for which we are most profoundly thankful, and which it would be to the permanent interest of the College to accept; therefore be it “Resolved by the Board of Trustees of Trinity College, now in session at the city of Durham, That a committee of three (3) members of the Board be appointed by the chairman to wait on the citizens' committee of Raleigh on Trinity College, and request of them a release from our obligation to comply with the terms of our agreement with them, that we may be free to accept the offer of the citizens of Durham.

“Resolved, 2d, That on condition the citizens of Raleigh release this Board and the North Carolina Conference from the above-mentioned obligation, it is the sense of this Board that the offer of the citizens of Durham be accepted.

JNO. F. CROWELL,
F. L. REID.

And whereas, The citizens of Raleigh released the said Board of Trustees from all obligation to move said College to said city of Raleigh; and whereas, J. S. Carr, Esq., of Durham, N. C., has proposed to donate to the Board of Trustees of Trinity College sixty acres of land, of the value of $20,000, situate in the city of Durham, N. C., for college purposes; and whereas, Washington Duke, Esq., of Durham, N. C., has proposed to donate to the Board of Trustees of Trinity College the sum of eighty-five thousand dollars for the purposes following, to-wit: The sum of not less than fifty thousand dollars to be used in the erection of the main central building of said College on said tract of land, and the sum of thirty-five thousand dollars or such sum as may remain of said eighty-five thousand dollars, to be added to the endowment fund of said College; and whereas, other citizens of Durham, N. C., have proposed to donate to the said Board of Trustees the sum of nine thousand dollars or more; and whereas, the cause of Christian education will be greatly promoted by accepting these munificent donations; therefore Resolved, 1st, That the North Carolina Conference accept such donations.

2d, That the Board of Trustees of Trinity College be, and it is hereby, authorized and directed to move Trinity College to Durham, N. C., when and not until the aforesaid tract of land is conveyed to said Board of Trustees and their successors by a good and sufficient deed in fee-simple, free from all encumbrances, and there is erected on said tract of land the main central building, as proposed, at a cost of not less than $50,000, to be paid out of said donation of $85,000, and the said sum of $35,000, or such sum as may remain of said sum of $85,000, is placed in the hands of said Board of Trustees as an addition to the endowment fund of said College: Provided, said conveyance of said tract of land shall be made to the Board of Trustees of Trinity College, and their successors, for the use and benefit of the North Carolina Conference and the Western North Carolina Conference, M. E. Church, South, as they now exist and are constituted, and for the use and benefit of such Conferences as may hereafter be created by the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, out of the territory now covered by said Conferences, and for the use and benefit of such Conferences as may hereafter be created by the said Church out of any territory within the State of North Carolina; so that said property shall be and remain the joint property of the North Carolina Conference and the Western North Carolina Conference as they now exist, and such other Conferences as may hereafter be created out of said territory.

3d, That the following resolution, passed by the North Carolina Annual Conference, at Greensboro, N. C., November, A. D. 1889, to-wit: "2d. It is further resolved, That all vacancies on the Board of Trustees of Trinity College shall be filled by the North Carolina Conference till it is divided, and, when divided, by such Conferences as shall be created as provided in the foregoing resolution, beginning with the Conference farthest east, and that Conference filling one, and the Conference next to it filling one, and so on till each Conference has filled one, and then again the same way in turn," be, and the same is hereby, approved, ratified and confirmed, so far as it is now applicable.

4th, That the grounds and buildings now owned and used at Trinity College, Randolph County, be held by the said Board of Trustees of Trinity College, to be used as the high-school department of Trinity College.

(Signed)

JOHN F. CROWELL,

JOHN W. MAUNEY,

Committee of Board of Trustees of Trinity College.

Therefore, be it resolved, That the North Carolina Conference hereby approves and ratifies the action of the Board of Trustees in the removal of Trinity College to Durham, N. C.

The Board of Trustees of Trinity College nominate Rev. F. D. Swindell, of Wilmington, and F. A. Woodard, Esq., of Wilson, to fill the vacancies in said Board made by the death of Rev. Dr. J. E. Mann and Rev. Dr. W. H. Bobbitt, and we endorse said nominations, and recommend that these brethren be elected.

The Board of Trustees of Trinity College ask that this Conference continue the educational collection of $5,000, divided equally between the North Carolina Conference and the Western North Carolina Conference, on the same basis of apportionment as last year, which we also recommend.

Resolved, That this Conference, jointly with the Western North Carolina Conference, at the request of the Board of Trustees of Trinity College, urges a more systematic effort for the raising of the endowment for said College, and herewith directs the presiding elders of the respective districts to arrange with the President of the College for the holding of mass-meetings at central points throughout the Conference to raise this endowment to $200,000.

Resolved, That we earnestly invite the members of the College of Bishops to be present with us to assist in the raising of this endowment at such times and places as can be arranged for with them.

Resolved, That this Conference herewith tenders its thanks for the generous donations of W. Duke, J. S. Carr and other citizens of Durham.

Resolved, That the Board of Education be appointed a Visiting Committee, whose duty it shall be to visit these institutions annually, either singly or in a body, according to such arrangements as may be made by the members of the Board, and report to each session of this Conference such facts and information in regard thereto as they may judge needful or beneficial to the Conference. It shall also be their duty to inquire into the status of education generally among our Methodist people within the bounds of the North Carolina Conference, and embrace the result of their inquiry in their annual reports.

Resolved, That we recognize the duty of doing what we can to educate our colored people, and commend the work of our Church, as undertaken under the direction of our General Conference, to the support of our people. We commend the Commissioner of Education and his work to our people, and welcome him to travel within our bounds and take collections in this interest.

Respectfully submitted,

J. SANFORD, Chairman.

GEO. T. SIMMONS, Secretary.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON OBSERVANCE OF ANNIVERSARY OF DEATH OF JOHN WESLEY.

Report of the committee appointed by the Conference to take into consideration the wisdom and mode of commemorating the death of Rev. John Wesley, which occurred in London on the 2d day of March, 1791. Your committee deem it of the greatest importance that the services of our eminent leaders shall be held in memory by succeeding generations, that the influence of such characters should be perpetuated for the spiritual and temporal good of humanity.

Among the moral and intellectual men of the world few surpass Mr. Wesley in consecration and force of character as a leader and organizer. By superior scholarship, by the most devout piety, by practical wisdom and knowledge of men, he accomplished a work unsurpassed in its wide-spread influence over the hearts and destiny of mankind. We are indebted to him for rescuing from oblivion the doctrine of the Witness of the Spirit, the sanctifying power of His Grace, and other great gospel truths, which, being embodied in the teachings of Methodism, have given it power to move the world and awaken to new life the thoughts and aspirations of men.

Moved by gratitude to God that, in times of such religious decline, He gave us a leader who helped to awaken his fellow-men out of spiritual lethargy, your committee offer the following resolutions:

Resolved, 1st, That we deem it our duty to commemorate his death by appropriate religious services throughout our Conference on the second day of March, 1891.

Resolved, 2d, That we invite the Western North Carolina Conference to unite with us in the commemoration of this day.

Resolved, 3d, That we request all organizations of Methodism to unite with us in suitable memorial services in honor of our illustrious founder.

Resolved, 4th, That the pastors of the several charges be requested to confer with prominent laymen and form such plans as will insure a general observance of this day.

[The object of the movement is to make our own people acquainted with the great work of Mr. Wesley (1) His providential share in promoting the Kingdom of God. (2) His great power for good over the masses. (3) The invaluable lessons of his life.]

Resolved, 5th, That we request Rev. Dr. Crowell, President of Trinity College, to prepare a tract setting forth the prominent traits and eminent usefulness of Mr. Wesley.

Resolved, 6th, That all our papers be requested to publish these resolutions, and by editorials to arouse enthusiasm in these memorial services.

R. O. BURTON,
W. S. BLACK,
for Committee.

REPORT OF SUNDAY-SCHOOL BOARD.

Your Sunday-school Board beg leave to submit the following report:

There are in the bounds of our Conference 564 Sunday-schools; number of officers and teachers, 4,186; number of scholars, 34,088. Amount expended for literature, $5,263.45; contributed for missions, $1,358.69; contributed on "Children's Day," $354.19, an increase of $63.78; whole amount raised in Sunday-schools, $11,352.08.

District Sunday-school Conferences have been held in all the districts, and Circuit Conferences in many of the circuits, and, we trust, have been profitable.

The Treasurer's reports show that we now have a deposit at the Publishing House, to the credit of the "Children's Day" fund, of $397.80, to which will be added the amounts collected this year, making the total deposit $751.99. The demand for the fund is gradually increasing, as it is being more generally understood. During the past year the Treasurer has aided twenty-one schools, and, no doubt, much good has been accomplished.

Your Board recommend that the law regulating the distribution of the fund be so changed that it will read as follows:

1st. The Treasurer shall be the constituted agent of this fund, and shall dispose of it only in the way determined on by the Sunday-school Board.

2d. That the Agent shall put on deposit at our Publishing House, in Nashville, ninety per cent. of all funds raised on "Children's Day" for the support of destitute Sunday-schools in the bounds of our Conference.

3d. The Agent shall have power to aid, or not, as he shall judge best, from all the information he may obtain in regard to schools or scholars asking help.

4th. The fund shall be subject to the draft of the Agent of this Board, but in no case shall it be used for any purpose except in purchasing Sunday-school literature or libraries for the use of the school aided.

5th. No application shall be considered unless statement be made therein that the school is unable to supply itself with literature or libraries, and signed by the preacher in charge and superintendent of said school.

6th. No school shall be aided more than twenty cents per member.

7th. All schools that expect to be aided more than one year must furnish to the Agent a statement of their progress.

We recommend the Sunday-school literature published at our house in Nashville as being worthy of our highest consideration and patronage, and earnestly urge our people to use them in all our schools. We offer the following resolutions for your adoption:

1st. That the day set apart as Children's Day be more generally and emphatically observed.

2d. That we earnestly insist that all pastoral charges be organized into Sunday-school Conferences, as directed by the Discipline.

3d. That the Secretary of this Board be instructed to have a sufficient number of copies of the communication of the Sunday-school Editor printed for the purpose, and send five copies to the pastor of each charge, to be distributed to the several schools, with the request that the communication be publicly read in each school.

We earnestly commend to the favorable consideration and support of our preachers and congregations the North Carolina State Sunday-school Association, a branch organization of the International Sunday-school Association, the aim of which is the establishment of a Sunday-school within reach of every home in North Carolina; to hold a convention at least once each year within reach of every Sunday-school teacher; to form a working Sunday-school organization in every county and township; the visitation of every house to invite all to church and Sunday-school, and to make known to all God's free offer of salvation through Jesus Christ. We shall pray for the success of this grand union missionary effort, confident we must save the children if we would save the nations, and that it is not the will of our Father in heaven that one of these little ones should perish.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON BOOKS AND PERIODICALS.

Your Committee on Books and Periodicals beg leave to report:

First. We rejoice to learn through our agents, of the continued and increasing prosperity of our Publishing House, and to the extent that the Book Committee were "justified in making an additional appropriation for the benefit of the claimants specified in the sixth restrictive rule of the Discipline," and, also, of making an increased appropriation for the benefit of our Sunday-school literature. We earnestly recommend the publications of the House to our people. They should be read in every family of the Church.

Second. The Christian Advocate, the connectional organ of the Church, under its new editorial auspices since the late session of our General Conference, continues to sustain its pure Christian tone and its high literary standard, and should have a wide circulation throughout the connection. It is a benediction to any family.

Third. It is cause of regret that we learn the Quarterly Review does not yet pay the cost of its production. It is a publication of high order, edited with marked ability, and furnishing well-written articles on quite a variety of important subjects. It ought to be read by all our preachers, especially by our young preachers, and by a large number of our laymen. Its editorials alone are worth more than the price of its subscription.

Fourth. The Missionary Reporter and the Woman's Missionary Advocate are very useful periodicals, and should have an extensive circulation among our people; and the Sowers and Reapers, a missionary paper for the children of the Church, should be extensively circulated in our Sunday-schools.

Fifth. The Raleigh Christian Advocate continues to grow in favor and usefulness among our people. Its editor is making every possible effort in his power for its improvement. It is one of the best in our family of Advocates, and we would rejoice to see it in every household in our bounds.

Resolved, therefore, That we most heartily endorse the Raleigh Christian Advocate as the organ of the North Carolina Conference, and that we pledge our efforts to increase its circulation, and that we request the presiding Bishop to appoint Rev. F. L. Reid, D. D., as its editor.

Sixth. We would call attention to the Bright Jewels, a monthly juvenile missionary paper, published in Raleigh, under the auspices of the Woman's Missionary Society of the North Carolina and Western North Carolina Conferences, and edited by Mrs. W. S. Black. It is a bright eight-page paper, filled with nice reading for the little folks. We invoke the blessings of heaven upon this new enterprise, and most cheerfully recommend it to the Bright Jewels and their friends throughout the State.
